“Transforming Church”

Transforming Church is the name of the process to discern the next vision and priorities for the Bristol Diocese. We are about to embark on a twelve-month review of our vision and priorities, seeking what Christ is calling us to be and to do in the coming years as his church. Central to this process is wide engagement with those both inside and outside the church, and listening to lots of different people - communities, congregations, clergy, lay ministers and church leaders.

Here at Dorcan we have a part to play in this and more details will be shared of what this might look like in due course. In the meantime, do take a look at +Viv’s video introducing “Transforming Church” and her hopes. You can find it here:

<https://www.bristol.anglican.org/visionandpriorities/transformingchurch/>

Please do pray for our senior leaders as they take this focus forward, and for wide engagement with this over the coming year.
